

Well done to our Legendary Lockdown Learners who have shown excellent attitudes towards their learning either at home or in school this week.

Ashburn Class

Esme Jones for showing great resilience and dedication to her home learning. She goes over and beyond by producing excellent work and even doing extra maths on IXL of which she has received numerous certificates.

Harris Storer for showing great commitment to his learning whether it is at school or at home. His curiosity to find out more is inspiring as is his creativity in the kitchen.

Dart Class

Shaya Harris because she embraces all of the tasks and challenges that I upload to Seesaw during the week. And for her incredible music 'cups' video! Wow! She has posted thoughtful and inspiring contributions to child mental health week.

Brooke Perry-Feecham because she embraces all of the learning challenges both in school and on Seesaw. Her contributions to literacy lessons give us all really super ideas to magpie from. Thank you, Brooke.

Tavy Class

Jemima Stansfield for showing great dedication and determination with her home learning. You have put excellent effort into your work and because of this, you have had great success! Keep shining bright.

Jonas Silevicius for challenging yourself and not giving up and showing Tavy's growth mindset. You are working hard with your Maths and enjoying the mastery tasks. You know that effort leads to success!

Plym Class

Samuel Joint has been very busy working at home. He has embraced his work with such enthusiasm. He loves all the activities he needs to do. Well done Samuel!

Keeley Hughes has been a star on Seesaw. She has uploaded videos doing PE, cooking and showing her 'special me' paper chains to the class. Keep it up!

Torridge Class

Beatrice Robinson for the way that you have shown continued passion for your learning. I enjoy reading the work you produce, and seeing the ways which you have grappled with tricky vocabulary. It is a skill to stay so motivated at home!

Alfred Powlesland for the way which you put so much effort into all of the learning you do at home and in school. You inspire others with your creativity and enthusiasm for learning and I am really noticing the progress you have made. Keep it up Alfred!

Bovey Class

Albie Hagger has been putting in so much effort with his home learning. He has not only uploaded the work set but also extra activities such as baking. He has really grappled with the challenges of home learning and embraced it in his own way. Albie has also been a fantastic friend, commenting supportive and positive thoughts on his friend's seesaw.

Cody Cottam has been a star on seesaw. It is clear that he is putting his all into his home learning, sharing videos of yoga as well as challenging himself by completing most of the task's set. Cody also enlightened us with his positive, smiley self on the zoom call each week sharing all of the fun that he is having at home with his family.

Meavy Class

Oakley Maghaireh and Macie Dawes for their fantastic efforts with their lockdown learning on Seesaw. Highlights of this include Oakley dressed up as a pirate and dancing to the pirate song on Just Dance for PE and Macie's beautiful red paintings for Little Red Riding Hood's house. Keep up the good work everyone!

Exe Class

Theo Blackford-Ede has embraced all the challenges of learning in lockdown. He completes all the tasks on Seesaw and then seeks out other learning opportunities such as building models of tanks, cooking, flying a model airplane and going on bicycle rides. He enjoyed the music unit so much he's started to learn the piano. Fantastic Theo!

Eleanor Regan It has been wonderful to see Eleanor collaborating with her siblings to explore rhythm and race paper 'helicopters'. She has risen to all the challenges we have given her with enthusiasm and creativity. Well done Eleanor.

Mardle Class

Oliver Regan for working so hard at home each and every day and doing it so enthusiastically. He also completed an extra challenge following our Zoom meeting: A WOW fact about Space.

Sky Lewis for settling in so wonderfully and easily to Mardle Class.

Mole Class

Harry Wannell for his incredible efforts during Lockdown, Harry has worked so hard at home and it has been such a joy to see all of the wonderful things he has been up to. So much wonderful learning. Well done Harry!

Ignas Silevicius has got a fantastic positive attitude towards his learning. He is always trying his best, even if work is a little tricky, he will persevere, I couldn't be prouder of all of his amazing efforts. Well done Ignas!

Taw Class

Elloisa Locke for her range of creative home learning ideas shared on Seesaw and Primrose Tremlett for her enthusiasm and effort in her home learning activities. These Lockdown Legends are always smiling and showing much concentration and focus in their photos and videos, really well done girls Mrs Short is feeling very proud of you!

Teign Class

Harriet Regan You can always count on Harriet to complete her remote learning with the same care and attention that she demonstrates in school. She puts in the maximum amount of effort often responding to feedback straight away and with the utmost care.

Martin Yonkov always carries out his remote learning with enthusiasm and often a great sense of humour. I am always delighted by the way he tackles his learning which demonstrates his independence and creativity across all of the subjects.

Tamar Class

Daisy Lees I am so impressed with how well you embrace the challenge of online learning. You always complete it with your usual enthusiasm. Well done and keep it up.

Gustas Silevicius for the maturity that you listen to feedback and edit your work to ensure it is completed at a high standard.

Here are your lockdown photographs from this week.

Well done to our Accelerated Readers.

100,000 words

Harry Lawrence, Emmie Storer,
Neve Wortley, Thomas Hallett and Sophie Brice.

500,000 words

Brooke Perry-Feecham.

Remember!!!

It is non-pupil day on Friday 12th February.

We love seeing your pictures and videos so please keep sending them into admin@highweekprimary.co.uk we can then share your achievements and activities with everyone on our Facebook and Instagram pages.